Back to Normalcy.

Now that the last election has been held, electing public officials from coroner to governor for at least dividuals to office. Whether our friends or favorites have been chosen or not, let's forget politics and turn to things that are more worth while.

with the result, let's get back to normalcy. Would that elections were held quadrennially instead of bi-

Loyal Officers Needed.

Under all circumstances law and order can best be promoted by having efficient and loyal officers to execute the law, but especially during the after-the-war period of demoralization through which we are passing do we being served from silver compotiers. need one-hundred-per-cent law enforcement officers. Greenwood, along with some of the other counties, has had some flagrant violations of the law during the past few years and since it has come to light that a rubeen indicted for spiriting away an honored with invitations. important witness in order to thwart justice one is not surprised that such a condition prevails in Greenwood

Sworn officers of the law who wink at crime are a hindrance rather than a help in enforcing the law. In selecting men to become executive or law enforcement officers, the people should give their support to those who are known to be foursquare and loyal to the last degree. Law enforcement is at a low ebb in any county where men who are sworn to uphold and enforce the law tacitly encourage its violation. Away with men of the type to which that rural policeman in Greenwood belongs if he be guilty of the charge of spiriting away a witness in orded to defeat justice.

The Second Primary Election.

The second election passed off quietly yesterday, and let us all give atives in Grenwood this week. thanks that it is over. In the first primary 1,821 votes were cast in Edgefield county and 1,809 were cast yesterday. In the race for govevrnor, Mr. Blease received 501 and Mr. McLeod 1308. Mr. Hope received 634 and Mr. Swearingen 1,158. In the county race, Mr. Bledsoe received 820 votes and Mr. Sheppard 983, Mr. Sheppard being elected by a majority of 163 votes. Mr. George W. Turner was elected magistrate at Edgefield over Mr. Tompkins by a najority of 9 votes.

In the state election, this mornng's papers give the following figres; Mr. Blease 83,293 and Mr. Mceod 98,390. Mr. Hope 104,543 and Ar. Swearingen 73,528. Altough hese figures are unofficial, Mr. Mceod will be the next governor and Ir. Hope will be the next state suerintendent of education.

Death of Mrs. P. M. Quarles.

The severing of earthly ties and he breaking of the home circle is lways sad, but when a mother, leavng not alone a bereaved husband ut small children, is taken in the idst of a useful life it is unspeakbly sad. Monday Mrs. Quarles, the ife of Mr. P. M. Quarles, died at er home in the Red Hill community. he had been in failing health for me months, having spent several eeks in the hospital in Augusta for ecial treatment. Nothing could be und that would bring relief.

Mrs. Quarles was a devout Chrisan woman, a member of Red Hill urch. She was a devoted wife, a nder and indulging mother, and a greatest sympathy is felt for ose who are left in the broken me circle to mourn her passing vay.

The funeral was conducted at Red ll church yesterday at noon by ev. P. B. Lanham.

"Englewood."

Friday evening "Englewood," the of their friends from Trenton, John- lumbia. ston and Edgefield, including also some out of town guests, and the spirit of extreme cordiality, good cheer and gracious hospitality permeated the atmosphere. The color scheme of the attractive decorations was pink and white which was carried out to the minutest detail, even in the refreshments that were served.

As the guests arrived they were refreshed with delicious punch, a large bowl being placed at each end of the front piazza, where a bevy of beautiful girls dispensed lavishly the fruit nectar. Mrs. Sadie Johnson Hill, the mother of the hostess, who though now is regarded as one of two years, let's cool off and resume the older generation, yet surprisingthe even tenor of our way. Progressive conversation was the Whether satisfied or disappointed chief form of diversion for the young people, the pink and white date cards being pased by the two little idols of the home, Sadie and Adeline Rainsford. During the conversation the latest victrola music, both instrumental and vocal, gave added zest to the occasion.

At the conclusion of the progressive conversation pink and white block cream and individual cakes were served, pink and white mints

The occasion was faultlessly planned by the host and hostess and nothing was left undone that would contribute to the pleasure of their guests. The delightful party at "Englewood" will be a source of pleasral policeman of that county has ant memories to the guests who were

Mr. J. H. Cantelou,

Edgefield, S. C.

My Dear Mr. Cantelou: This is to authorize you to begin taking applications again. Our appraised force is now so organized as that we can give every assurance of reasonably prompt appraisals. We have been fortunate enough to have assigned to us two very experienced appraisers from the Federal Land Bank, to work for us sixty days. These two appraisers, with the three I have of my own in the state, with an additional one in training, should permit us to cover the state rapidly. And in order that we may get the benefit of the services of these extra appraisers, we shall greatly appreciate it if you will make a special effort to get us in some applications

While we are prepared to handle the minimum and the maximum loans permitted by the bank-$1,000 and $25,000, inclusive-yet we have a predilection for the loan averaging from $3,500 to $10,000.

We are pleased to tell you that we amounts; and while the Executive Committee is slightly behind with the applications, we are doing our best to close the loans promptly.
